Modern styling offers exceptional sound quality and value.

The MANHATTAN® Desktop Microphone is an ideal accessory for personal computers. Its omnidirectional electret condenser equally detects sound from all directions and provides a stable frequency and dynamic range suitable for voice recording, instant messengers, voice-over-IP (VoIP), multimedia and other applications. The boom adjusts 45° and holds its position or folds flat for easy storage and travel. A stylish, modern design with a flat, sturdy base and non-scratch base grips the desktop to help keep it in place.

Easy to Connect and Ready to Use

The MANHATTAN Desktop Microphone is ready for use with a single, quick connection through a 3.5 mm stereo plug. Its nylon mesh jacket protects the cable from damage and wear. No amplifier, external power supply or complicated installation is required.

Lifetime Warranty

Strict manufacturing standards ensure the highest quality in all MANHATTAN products. All items carry a full Lifetime Warranty — the strongest quality commitment anyone can make.
